that elusive phantasm, the Republican tariff bill, given by party organs, show it to be in all essential features a wretched substitute for the Mills bill.

It is said to provide for a reduction of 10,000,000 will be taken from the tax on tobacce and alcohol; $5,000,000 from duties on articles not manufactured in this country, and the remaining $25,000,000 from the duty on sugar.

This is practically giving no relief from burdensome taxention. No one cares a figure in the taxes on tobacce and alcohol, except in the interest of temperance, and he small reduction on articles not manufactured here affords little help to either

Last Evening.

The week of the fastivities opened brightly for the theaters last night. All of the houses had good andiences and several were exceptionally large. The attractions are all good of their kind and particularly fitted to draw the visitors so the city.

To any one who wants to experience all the ferror and inspiration of war without the horribly unpleasant features of it nor the farce of an attempt at actual representation of battle on the stage, "Held by the Enemy" at the Grand will give it. The sense at Division Headquarters, in the third act, with its sound of galloping horses and it view of dust and blood-covered soldiers, anguests war in all its grandeur to the imagination. But every act at the play is good and ends with an interesting climat. The story holds the attention of the andlence, and in the clever mingling of pathos, sentiment and bright comedy, the highest standard of dramatic entertainment is reached. The company, while it does not put forward brilliant individual acting, is excellent. The performance is harmonious and intelligent, with C. W. Stokes as Mai.-Gen. Stamburg, James E. Wilson as Col. Prescott, Wm. Haworth as Lieut. Hayne, Will Preston as Bean, H. A. Mercy as Surgeon Fielding, Kate Denin Wilson as Euphemia McOreery, Eather Lyon as Beahel McOreery and Minnie Dupree as Susen McCreery.

Sands of visitors who are flooking in. This morn in s's trains were to-night's frains will be, as 9 o'clock this morning an visiting the Expositing two hours the building reges crowd that has in the morning. There was a brief session in the Oriminal Court to-day. It was the first day of the October term and Judge Normile occupied the bench for the first time since his return from Alaska. The Grand-jury for the term was to have been empaneled but 'ye jurors were discharged until next Monday, when they will be sworn in and commence work. All cases were also laid over because this is Fair Week, and the Court thinks it would be a hardship to keep merchants and shop-keepers away from their business the week, which is the best of the year with retailers. A number of citizens were naturalized by the court.

THE TURF SEASON.

to say with any accuracy as to now any stand. Many of both sexes, were betting at Gravesend last week, with the same eagerness, and with apparently as much money as when they did at the same place during the first week of the season.

They have pulled through the summer. Some complain they had no luck, while others smile and say that they have held their own. Thousands of dollars, however, have gone into the ring that did not come out except as payment to the association for the privileges and in expenses for clerk hire and printing. Outside the results of the racing, with the inand-out running of the 3-year-olds and the almost total collapse of the 3-year-olds as factors in racing, the great question has been the status of the bookmakers. Many have labored to prove them even worse than the lower oriminals in police records, because they combined to get as much of the public's money with as little expense as possible, like some of the gigantic trust companies. But there has not been a single case of "Welching." Not a winning ticket issued on a racetrack straight or place that has been presented remains unpaid, while there is a reverse side to that, for many of the boxes are carrying "markers" representing unpaid bets. Yet it must be said that an "alliance" or association of bookmakers is so unpopular with the mass of bettors that Mr. Lawis Clark's movement on New York in November to induce Eastern racing associations to join with Western clubs in a general agreement to sell their betting privileges of the meeting to no one organization, but to let out their betting stands to individual boofmakers at a uniform price per day is likely to succeed. There may be some modification in the idea and it is not stall unlikely that proposed reforms will come from THE BOOKMAKERS
